Southern CT BOMA invites you to ...

OSHA: What you need to know!

OSHA has had changes made and as Property Managers and Vendors who supply services and products to the buildings, this luncheon meeting is a 'must' for all BOMA members. Items to be covered will be OSHA Standards, OSHA Inspections, including types of inspections, inspection format, violations, and citations.

Join your BOMA colleagues to hear from Paul Errico and Nick Everett as they discuss OSHA compliance.

Paul Errico

AffinEco

Paul has thirty years of experience working with OSHA (General Industry, Maritime Industry and Construction), EPA and USDOT regulations and diverse industries. He has developed safety policies and procedures for many industries, conducted over 20 environmental investigations, given various lectures on Hazardous Materials, Safety & Terrorism, developed safety protocols for emergency clean-up personnel at the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, and is an expert witness on workers' compensation cases and environmental investigations. Paul presently works for AffinEco and is an Adjunct Professor teaching a graduate course in OSHA and Environmental Law at a local university.

Nick Everett

A.P. Construction Company

Mr. Everett is Executive Vice President and Director of Business Development for A.P. Construction Company, a division of The Ashforth Company. He is responsible for marketing investigation and strategy, client development and maintenance, and proposal formulation for the Company's Connecticut and New York offices. He joined the Company in 1993 as Vice President & Director of Operations for A.P. Construction's Westchester County, NY office. His major accomplishments include the successful management of EastRidge Properties' $50 million capital improvement program, the development of a tenant construction standards program for EastRidge Properties, and the development of a broad client base throughout Westchester County.
